

Camryn & Elena Turn 4! June 21st, 2017

Although Camryn & Elena had previously agreed to have a "building birthday," the girls decided to switch to a "drawing party" when they became invested in art work from earlier in the morning. The class made the transition with them easily, with children happily drawing & creating throughout our space. The friends played harmoniously throughout the day, enjoying their special day in each other's company.
