

This morning the whole class enjoyed a pleasant song-filled stroll to Red's Urban Farm. The children chose our snack spot (upon a line of stumps), ate quickly, & ran off to show off their favorite farm spots. We enjoyed all the classic attractions, such as the old tractor, chicken spotting (sadly the hens were cooped), & pebble throwing in the creek. Adele happily showed us where the rope swing hangs, which was a new spot for many! Violet fell in love with a ladybug, offered it some "food," & blew a kiss goodbye after lamenting having to leave it. Here are some choice quotes:

Violet, on the walk there: "Hold my hand, I don't want to be scared."

Adele/Emerson, on the way to the swing: A: "It's not a short walk!" E: "Are you sure we're almost there?"

Landon, regarding the swing: "It's up in the tree around the branch so it can swing!"

Adele: "This is the best day of my life!"

Morning at The
Urban Farm
September 14th,
2015