

Water Day & Dancing Babies 🎵

This morning while setting up for water play Banks, Leo, and Alexander helped Cathy and the Green room water the strawberry and worm garden. This week we've added splash balls and a few more water toys. With our speaker working this week we were able to have music playing and they LOVED it! Check out their awesome dance moves! I think the pictures below speak for themselves! Another fun water day!

Both Banks and Sam spent their time showing us what great swimmers they are! Banks kept dipping her head in the water, which of course we did not expect!

Kennedy usually spends her time playing in the pool, but today she made her way to the water table!
