

Landon's Clay Family 11/2/2016

Landon initially sets out to "build a ship" but as he manipulates the clay he sees a human form. He creates himself ("me"), & then excitedly works on "mama" & "baba." While he builds his family he speaks joyfully of love "in their hearts." When he finishes his nuclear family, I (Kalei) ask him if he might also like to make his dogs! Before we clean up, I invite him to work with this same idea during our next clay session, but with the intention of building family figures that are able to stand up.
