

Happy Birthday Henry and James!
October 14, 2011

Scoop the ice cream, cut the cake, and put on your birthday hats! Here at The Nest's infant room we get to celebrate a lot of firsts – first time a child sits up at school, eats solid food, scoots across the room. Today, we were able to have another new first: our first first birthday. That's right, Henry turned one today, and James turns one tomorrow. In honor of their birthday Teresa created beautiful centerpieces at the dining room table during lunch.

As another special treat, we brought in all the infants to help sing "Happy Birthday" to the boys. Nate, Cruz, and Darcy had a great time watching all the toddlers sing. James also watched the toddlers, while Henry played with the flowers and candles on both his and James' plates. Happy Birthday Henry and James!
